

---

Mark Honecker

Executive Director and Chief of Staff U.S. Fleet Forces Command

Mr. Honecker's professional career began in 1985 as a Financial Management Intern with the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Financial Management and Comptroller). After a variety of experiences in the Comptroller's office, he was selected to lead the Aviation and Weapons Division. In January 1996, Mr. Honecker was selected by the Secretary of the Navy to be part of the Department of the Navy Organization, Management and Infrastructure Team. This senior level team was responsible for improving efficiency and effectiveness throughout the Department of the Navy. Upon completion of this two year assignment, Mr. Honecker returned to the Comptroller's office as the Deputy Director for Business and Civilian Resources.

In September 1998, Mr. Honecker was appointed to the Senior Executive Service (SES) and assumed a position working for the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Logistics) as the Director, Shore Installation Management Division. In December 1999, Mr. Honecker was selected to establish and lead the Logistics Planning and Innovation Division within the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Fleet Readiness & Logistics). Additionally, Mr. Honecker was the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) principal executive responsible for Sea Enterprise implementation. In this capacity he led the effort to understand and improve the business operations of the Navy.

In April 2005, Mr. Honecker was selected to be the Deputy Commander, Naval Network Warfare Command in Norfolk VA responsible for providing leadership for over 15,000 military and civilian personnel located in over 20 countries supporting, 290 ships, and approximately 900,000 computer network users, all globally dispersed. In this position he was responsible for Navy network operations, space operations and Information Operations.

In May 2006, Mr. Honecker was selected to be the Executive Director/Chief of Staff U.S. Fleet Forces Command (USFF) in Norfolk VA, responsible for generating ready Navy forces for global employment: operational and planning support for Combatant Commanders: Maritime Homeland Security as the Navy component to US Northern Updated 6-16

Command: safe, effective and efficient operations of the Fleet; USFF staff operations; and advising CNO on current and future capabilities and needs of the Fleet.

Mr. Honecker holds a Bachelor of Science in both Business Administration and Economics and a Master of Public Administration (MPA) from The American University. Additionally, he has completed the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Seminar XXI program in Foreign Politics, International Relations and National Security and is a 2009 graduate of the Hampton Roads CIVIC Leadership Institute.

Mr. Honecker numerous honors include both the Distinguished and Meritorious Presidential Rank Award, Department of the Navy Distinguished, Superior and Meritorious Civilian Service Medals, two Meritorious Unit Commendations and two Department of the Navy e-Gov Awards.