

---

---

William H. Luebke, Ph.D.

Director, Logistics & Fleet Support (Code 4.0) Naval Information Warfare Systems Command

Dr. William H. Luebke's service to the Department of the Navy includes a wide variety of challenging headquarters and warfare center positions within the Naval Sea Systems Command (NAVSEA) and Naval Information Warfare Systems Command (NAVWAR) enterprises. In July 2017 he assumed his current duties as Director, Logistics & Fleet Support at NAVWAR.

Dr. Luebke began his civilian career through Senior Executive Service (SES) appointment in 2005. Through mid-2009 he served as NAVSEA's Director for Marine Engineering before assignment as Technical Director, Naval Surface Warfare Center (NSWC) Corona Division until early 2017. Following the abrupt departures of the NSWC Port Hueneme Division's Technical Director and Commanding Officer in mid-2014, Dr. Luebke accepted a three-year concurrent assignment to restore technical and organizational viability to the 2,500-person command.

Dr. Luebke followed graduations from the U.S. Naval Academy and Naval Postgraduate School with sea duty aboard USS Truett, FF1095 and USS Scott, DDG995. He earned a doctorate at MIT then became the AEGIS Test Officer at SUPSHIP Pascagoula before transferring to NAVSEA PMS400D as the first DDG51 Production Officer. In 1993 Dr. Luebke reported to DASN (SHIPS) as Director for Surface Combatants, then subsequently served as Deputy Program Manager for the $6B Strategic Sealift Program. From 1996 to 1997 he was Executive Assistant to Commander, NAVSEA. In 1997 Dr. Luebke became the Program Manager for the $12B LPD17 Shipbuilding Program. In 2001, he served as Executive Assistant and Naval Aide for ASN (RD&A). From 2002 through 2003 he was Technical Director for the Future Concepts and Surface Ship Design Group, NAVSEA 05D. In 2004 he retired from the Navy and entered the private sector as Director of Technology for CAE Marine Systems.

In 2016 Dr. Luebke was awarded the SES Presidential Rank Award for Meritorious Executive following receipt of the Superior Civilian Service Award in 2015. While on active duty, his awards included three Legions of Merit, four Navy Meritorious Service, and two Navy Commendation Medals. A Navy Acquisition Corps member, he earned Level III Certifications in Program Management, Engineering and Logistics.