
Kurt J. Wendelken

Assistant Commander for Supply Chain Technology/Systems Integration (N2/N6) Naval Supply Systems Command

Mr. Wendelken serves as Assistant Commander for Supply Chain Technology/Systems Integration (N2/N6) and is Navy's lead for supply chain technology exploitation, systems integration and the authoritative expert for supply chain surety and cyber protection. He was selected for the Senior Executive Service in December 2016.

In his 26 year career as a Navy Supply Corps Officer, he served in a variety of supply, IT and logistics positions, including sea tours onboard the command ship USS LASALLE (AGF 3), the guided missile frigate USS UNDERWOOD (FFG 36) and the amphibious assault ship, USS BATAAN (LHD 5). His shore assignments include Commanding Officer, NAVSUP Business Systems Center, Chief Information Officer, NAVSUP HQ; Chief, External IT Services at Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE); and Resource Officer, Navy Logistics Business IT Systems on the staff of Chief of Naval Operations (N41). Additionally, he served as a global logistics expert and program manager for major IT initiatives.

Wendelken is a graduate of Hofstra University with a bachelor of business administration in International Business. He also earned a master of science in Information Technology Management and an Information System Security Professional certificate from the Naval Postgraduate School. He is a graduate of the Executive Program, Tuck School of Business, Dartmouth College, the U. S. Naval War College, College of Command and Staff and is a member of the Defense Acquisition Corps.

He is the recipient of the Legion of Merit and several other personal and unit awards from his uniformed service.