

Checklist for Senior Leaders & DCHRs - Preparing for Possible Furlough

- Develop command-level guidance regarding identification and funding of continued operations
- Identify excepted functions essential to operations
 - Provide a business case for those designated as excepted from furlough, specifically among groups of employees performing identical or like duties (in case of third-party review or grievances)
- Develop communication processes for your workforce and community (sample letter, fact sheets and checklists provided)
 - Identify command POC(s) responsible for answering employee questions during furlough
 - Prepare letter/notification to employees who will be furloughed (sample provided)
- Identify excepted employees:
 - DCHRs run a PER-138 report to validate/verify employee's furlough status
 - DCHRs submit the PER-138 report containing only employee records requiring update within DCPDS to their designated Operations Center. (All submissions MUST be within the PER-138 Excel format; no modifications will be accepted as format must be compliant with DCPDS)
 - Operations Centers to process PER-138 Excel files received from DCHRs. Reports received late are not guaranteed for on time completion
- Identify non-excepted employees who may receive furlough notification
- Work with command labor/employee relations designee to notify bargaining units (unions) of intent to furlough
- You may verbally advise employees of their excepted/non excepted status up to two days prior to the potential lapse of appropriations.
- Notify employees of the requirement to complete an orderly shutdown of operations.
 - Employees with an RDO occurring on the first day of a furlough would report on their next regularly scheduled workday.
- Consider modifying compressed work schedules for excepted employees during the furlough to ensure employee availability during entire work week
- Review EODs for new appointments into federal service and consider whether to delay or bring on board based on:
 - Excepted vs. non-excepted position; pay period
- Delay all EODs for Agency transfers

Checklist for Senior Leaders & DCHRs - Executing a Furlough

- Ensure an orderly shutdown of non-excepted operations
 - Employees should report to duty on their regularly scheduled work day to conduct an orderly shutdown and receive communication on the furlough
 - Employees with an RDO occurring on the first day of a furlough should report to conduct an orderly shutdown on their next regularly scheduled workday.
 - Supervisors may allow employees to conduct necessary shutdown activities from a remote location, even without an existing telework agreement, if the nature of the employees' shutdown activities are de minimis (i.e., can be completed within 1 hour). For example, such activities would include receiving and acknowledging receipt of an electronic furlough notice and adjusting voicemail and email to reflect current work status.
- Ensure that labor organizations have received notification (should be done before or at the same time as communication notices are distributed to employees)
- Distribute communication notices to employees (templates will be provided, sample voice mail and email messages, employee checklist provided by OCHR)
 - Written notices may not be distributed until AFTER a lapse in appropriations and an official order to execute is issued.
 - You may verbally advise employees of their excepted/non excepted status up to two days prior to the potential lapse of appropriations.
- Notify employees on TDY that they must return to their home station as part of the orderly shutdown process using the government-issued travel credit card
 - Government travel credit cards will be honored to return employees to their home station
- Cancel scheduled leave during furlough period
 - Excepted employees who are unable to report for duty will be furloughed and placed in a non-pay, non-duty status until they are able to report
- Modify compressed work schedules for excepted employees during the furlough to ensure employee availability during entire work week
- Communicate with new employees regarding postponing entrance on duty (EOD)
- Contractors performing under a contract that was fully obligated upon contract execution (or renewal) before the lapse in appropriations, may continue to provide contract services whether or not they are supporting excepted activities.
 - New contracts (including renewals or extensions, issuance of task orders, exercise of options) may not be executed unless the contractor is supporting an excepted activity and no funds will be available to pay such contracts until Congress appropriates additional funds.
