Encl: (1) Timeline and List of Deliverables

1. Purpose

a. To provide guidance and direction to U.S. Navy activities directly involved with historic United States Ship (USS) Constitution commissioned vessel with restrictions, and to incorporate higher level guidance enacted by the U.S. Congress, as well as direction issued by the Secretary of the Navy and the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) per references (a) through (n).

b. Changes to this revision include the responsibilities for Director, Naval History and Heritage Command (NAVHISTHERITAGECOM), Commander, Naval Sea Systems Command (COMNAVSEASYSCOM), and Director, Naval History and Heritage Command Detachment Boston (NAVHISTHERITAGECOM DET BOSTON). This instruction is a complete revision and should be reviewed in its entirety.

2. Cancellation. OPNAVINST 3120.46.

3. Background

   a. USS Constitution is a living symbol of America’s rich maritime history and is the centerpiece of a robust effort to promote longstanding relationships with the public. It does so through public access to the ship; active participation in public events and education of the Nation’s youth; through its continued status as a commissioned U.S. Navy vessel; and through its unique status as the world’s only 18th century warship (commissioned in 1797) still capable of limited sail. In aggregate, these efforts project a powerful message of America’s deep affection for its maritime heritage and for this particular ship, appropriately nicknamed “Old Ironsides.”

   b. Establishing USS Constitution’s esteemed historical significance to the United States, Congress designated her as “America’s Ship of State” in 2009 per reference (a). Adjunct to her primary mission of education and public outreach, Congress’ intent was the President, Vice President, executive branch officials, and members of Congress should use USS Constitution for the conduct of pertinent matters of state, such as hosting visiting heads of state, signing legislation related to the Armed Forces of the United States, and signing maritime related treaties.

4. Objectives

   a. Promote awareness of the history and importance of USS Constitution and the U.S. Navy through public access and outreach efforts.

   b. Assign responsibility and accountability to supporting commands for USS Constitution and her associated facilities across the range of missions set forth in reference (b).

   c. Establish interagency support requirements for USS Constitution.
d. Enable and facilitate the utilization of USS Constitution in her capacity as “America’s Ship of State.”

e. Properly maintain USS Constitution, the oldest commissioned warship afloat in the world.

5. Assumptions

   a. USS Constitution will remain in commission, but not for active service.

   b. USS Constitution will retain the capability of limited underway sailing demonstrations.

   c. USS Constitution will retain her saluting batteries and therefore the designation as a saluting ship.

   d. USS Constitution will continue to be crewed by active duty U.S. Navy personnel.

   e. USS Constitution will continue to be homeported in Boston, Massachusetts as directed by reference (c).

6. Discussion. USS Constitution’s unique status necessitates uncommon levels of federal, state, and local cooperation. While the commanding officer is ultimately accountable, a wide variety of supporting commands and partners are needed to ensure the ship and crew are able to maintain the capabilities outlined in reference (b), and to successfully accomplish all assigned missions and tasks. This instruction requires the establishment of memoranda of agreements (MOA) between these supporting commands and partners to formally establish the oversight and support the USS Constitution requires.

7. Responsibilities and Relationships. In order to ensure maximum historic availability of USS Constitution, all commands must endeavor to accomplish their respective roles and responsibilities as defined in this instruction.

At a minimum, the plan must address:

(a) Summary of the previous year’s activities;

This requires USS Constitution to establish and maintain formal relationships with several non-Department of Defense agencies. These include:

a. National Park Service;

b. U.S. Coast Guard;

c. Massachusetts National Guard;

d. Massachusetts State Police;

e. Boston Police Department;

f. Boston Fire Department;
