1. Purpose. To establish Department of the Navy (DON) policy, guidance, and procedures, to assign responsibilities as referenced in enclosure (1), and delegate authority for crediting of non-Federal, volunteer, and active duty uniformed service experience that is otherwise not creditable when determining annual leave accrual rate, per references (a) through (c).

2. Applicability. This instruction applies to appropriated fund employees within the Office of the Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV), the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO), the Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC), and all U.S. Navy, U.S. Marine Corps installations, commands, activities, field offices, and all other organizational entities within the DON, including activities for which the DON serves as the executive agent.

3. Policy. Per reference (c), it is the DON policy that:

   a. Newly appointed employees or employees reappointed after a break in service of at least 90 calendar days may be granted credit for non-Federal, volunteer, and active duty uniformed service if the skills and experience of the employee are essential to the new position and have been acquired through performance in a non-Federal, volunteer, or active duty uniformed service position having duties that directly relate to the duties of the position to which the employee is being appointed. The skills and experience of the employee must be necessary to achieve an important agency mission or performance goal. DON officials may consider credit for qualifying non-Federal, volunteer, and active duty uniformed service toward annual leave accrual to meet their civilian strategic human capital needs. There is no entitlement to credit for non-Federal employment, active duty uniformed service, or volunteer experience pursuant to this instruction. Such credit is discretionary, and shall be applied consistent with reference (d);

b. This incentive must be offered and approved as part of the recruitment process and the amount of service credit (computed in terms of years and months) must be determined prior to the employee’s Entrance on Duty (EoD) with a minimum one-year service credit to a maximum of 15 years’ service credit. Service credit determination must be made in writing prior to the EoD as identified in enclosures (2) and (3);

c. When making determinations authorizing leave accrual service credit, factors such as the currency and relevancy of the experience, the criticality of the position to the mission, the difficulty in filling the position, and the existing capabilities to attract candidates to the position must be considered;

d. To be creditable for each period of service, the experience must be directly related and equivalent to the next lower grade level or pay band (if appropriate) in the normal line of progression for the occupation in the organization (e.g., experience comparable to General Schedule (GS)-11 level for a position at the GS-12 level). Other work experience at lower levels, (e.g., experience at GS-7 or GS-9 for a GS-12 position) while valuable, cannot be credited as directly related experience. A comparison of military and civilian equivalent grades chart may be used as an additional tool while making determinations;

e. Any creditable annual leave for uniformed service must have been performed on active duty and served under honorable conditions, as defined in Chapter 6 of reference (e). An employee may not receive dual credit for the same period of active duty uniformed service (i.e., military retirees may not receive credit for both verified campaign time and time credited, per this instruction);

f. Retroactive determinations on the annual leave accrual rate for current employees are not authorized;

g. Service granted under this authority is not creditable for retirement or reduction-in-force purposes;

h. Education cannot be deemed or credited as directly related experience;

i. Service granted under this authority shall remain creditable indefinitely unless the employee fails to complete one year of continuous Federal service within the Department of Defense (DoD);

j. An employee who is placed on leave without pay during the required one-year period of continuous Federal service shall have the continuous service period requirement extended by that amount of time. This requirement does not apply to employees who are placed on leave without pay due to active duty uniformed service or compensable injury (i.e., worker’s compensation); and

k. An employee who separates from the DoD or transfers to another Federal agency outside the DoD before completing one full year of continuous service is not entitled to retain service credit for non-Federal, volunteer, or active duty uniformed service work experience provided under this recruitment flexibility.

4. Action. Pursuant to reference (f), DON officials with delegated authority to authorize and approve crediting of non-Federal, volunteer, and active duty uniformed service shall take all necessary actions to implement the provisions outlined in this instruction. DON organizations shall use this authority consistent with merit system principals.
